Doors That We Open

During the lifetime of a student here at YCP, doors are opened every day. The doors of Campbell Hall and Schmidt Library see extensive action during the course of any semester. The dorm doors swing open frequently, and the Student Union and Wolf Gym possess popular portals. These are the literal doors on the YCP campus.

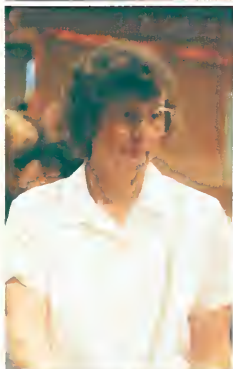

There are, however, those doors that are not material. Any kind of relationship formed opens a new door. From faculty to student, peer to peer, or boyfriend to girlfriend, each relationship unlocks part of the future. Education also opens doors to the future. Everyday we live, we learn.

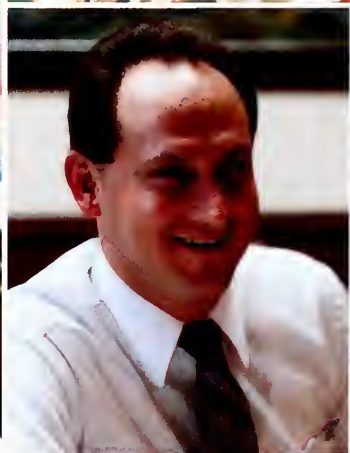

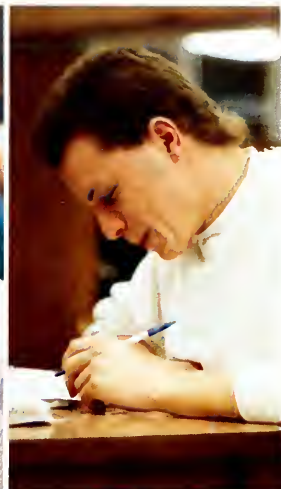

We grow, learn, and continuously open these doors because, WE ARE THE KEY TO THE FUTURE!

Friends

Friends are important to all of us. They help us through rough or troubled times and are there to share in our triumphs. A friend accepts you as you are, but has the right to present constructive criticism. We all know that there are no words to truly describe what a friend means to everyone.

York College has many types of friends. A friend may be found in a roommate, RA, peer advisor, classmate, academic advisor, professor, administrator, or the people who work in the Spart's Den. There is no limit as to where you might find a friend at YCP.

Friends may move on to different places, but one must remember the friendship does not end with graduation.

As they say, "A picture is worth a thousand words." So I leave it to these pages and smiles to explain the true meaning of friendship. This book is dedicated to all friends at York College and especially to those friends who are moving on.

President
Robert V. Iosue

May, 1989

Dear York College Graduates:

This has been a wonderful period of time in the life of York College and each of you has been a special part of our growth toward excellence.

You have received some of the finest teaching around, and certainly our faculty have influenced your lives in other ways outside of the class. The activities you have enjoyed have also enriched your stay here.

But the time has come to say goodbye, not for good, but til we see you again as a YCP graduate.

I hope you are as proud of York College as we are of you. Our accomplishments, yours and the College's, will forever be intertwined. We shall continue to grow in stature and recognition even as you grow in your chosen profession.

Our affection goes with you as does our hopes that only the best of all things greets you along every step of your journey.

Best wishes to each and every one of you.

Sincerely,

Choir

The York College Concert Choir is a group of students from various majors with a common interest to sing. Choir is a scheduled one-credit course and results in two different groups throughout the year.

The fall semester group participated in the annual Winter Concert with a vocal version of the "Birthday of a King." This group also sang at the Winter Commencement where they presented "I Sing the Body Electric" from the movie Fame with solos by Jane Lindcamp and Dan Reck. They also sang the Alma Mater which was led by director, DeLeigh Wilson.

The spring semester group was very active this year. They presented a "Phantom of the Opera" medley at the Spring Concert and "One Moment in Time" at Commencement. The highlight of the semester was traveling to Washington, D.C. to participate in "America Sings," a mass concert of choirs from around the nation to help homeless children. In D.C., the choir performed a solo concert of their own selections.

Anyone can become involved, and it is encouraged.

College Republicans

The College Republican Club was reactivated this year. The club became involved in the community and on campus. Early in the fall semester George Bush made a campaign stop in York. The visit reaffirmed the club's priority of helping to insure a Bush victory. On Election Day, College Republican Club members worked the polls. On campus, the College Republicans sponsored two voter registration drives, and a candid talk with Representative William Goodling. Other college activities included a bake sale and a Final Four college basketball contest. To better inform students about their leaders, the College Republican Club ran several columns outlining members of the federal government in the Spartan. The club would like to thank advisor Chris Reily for his support and is looking forward to another active year at York College.

In the 1988-89 season, the Forensics team won 24 awards! Forensics (not anything like Quincy) is "the art of persuasion, beautiful and just!" The team competes around the area (W.Va., Pa, N.J., Md) all year and attends national conferences; this year in St. Louis, Mo.

These activities plus many many more are a tradition of Tau Kappa Epsilon to benefit the community and the college. TKE is also very involved with the intramural program and is progressively becoming very competitive in every sport. Tau Kappa Epsilon is a very large international fraternity, with over 400 chapters. TKE is traditionally a very strong fraternity and is an excellent college experience. Once again, York College welcomes freshmen and new students with an array of events. Every year it gets better! This year, exploration exploded with Mr. Simon Sez (remember when he got you good?). We were also dazzled with the music of Moja Nya and the New Potato Caboose only to end our first week of college with that interesting and outrageous movie "Good Morning Vietnam." The month of September awed us with "Little Shop of Horrors" and the incredible acapella singing group, The Jabberwoks. September was great, but it doesn't stop there

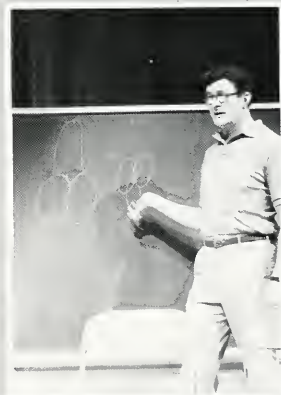

Through music, York College's own C.A.B. (Campus Activity Board) works to bring all the students together for a evening of relaxing enjoyment. C.A.B. brought us three great bands and a musical for the month of Sept. For the first time some of us were introduced to the excitement of live Reggae music by Moja Nya. But that was only the beginning. The afternoon continued with the wonderful rock sounds of "The New Potato Caboose." And who can forget that mellow sound brought to us by "the Jabberwoks." This group of incredibly talented men started their act in college and later went on to record their own albums and tour the United States. College is a lot of hard work but lets not forget the fun times. Go out and record a song and have some fun!!

October not only dazzled us but shocked us with a combination of drama, humor, and even a little unexplainable. Who will forget room extermination for parents weekend or the movies at the theatre. The Theatre Company made us think with their production of T.S. Elliot where S.T.A.R.S. made us think, but in a different way with sexual awareness week. Our stress and problems were forgotten for a few hours by spending time with comedian Marty Putz, and we rejoiced as a group to dedicate our new chapel. Never forget the wonders brought to you during your years at York College.

We all remember how excited and scared we all were when our first parents weekend rolled around. Maybe it was our freshman year and now we were presenting our parents with the new life we learned to live. For some it was great, while showing our parents around we just avoided Murphys, Bennetts, or maybe a certain dorm. For others we realized how much we really missed home but we all learned to live at and love York College. Our best friends and worst enemies are here and we love it. Never forget York and the memories you have here.

The Brougher Student Chapel was dedicated on Tuesday, October 11, 1988. The Chapel is not only a place of worship but a meeting place to learn and grow in love and friendship.

The York College Theatre Company celebrated the 100th anniversary of T.S. Eliot's birthday with the production of "A Celebration of T.S. Eliot". T.S. Eliot was born September 26, 1888 in St. Louis, Missouri and died January 4, 1965 in London, England. Eliot was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1948. The seven member cast consisted of Kevin Baer, Sandy Baublitz, Ann Fetterman, Bill Hoover, Royce Messersmith, Jr., Michelle Nemetz, Stephen Olenik and director Dr. Jim McGhee. They honored the poet with some dramatic readings of Eliot's greatest works.

Because we have gone on trying
We, content at the last

November opened with a lecture on music by Barry Drake in the Spart's Den, which also featured the talents of "Split Second." On the 9th, the Theatre Co. presented the hit musical, Godspell, which had the audiences literally "dancing in the aisles!" The annual Talent Show quickly followed. This year's winner- "Short Notice!" The Winter Formal took place at the Sheraton and Laura Silva claimed the throne as Formal Queen.

York College Talent Show

Lead singer for Short Notice, Jen Little.

The 13th annual York College of Pennsylvania Talent Show was held on Tuesday November 15, 1988. Let's remember York Colleges own celebrities such as the singing group Desperate for Money. This group started in 1988 with Mike Corcoran and Mike Ford. The group now consists of Mike, Mike, Jules, and CD. Another great Band that started in 1988 was Split Second now known as Short Notice. This is a five man group whose members are Ed Jablouski, Craig Halsey, Jen Little, Lauri Henderson, and Jeff Harvey. There were also many other Talented groups and solo numbers that performed that evening.

Student Senator, Jeff Hyman.

December proved to be a quiet month on the York College campus. YCP opened the Holiday Season with the Annual Christmas Caroling Competition. The Annual Christmas Concert featured performances from the Concert Choir, Orchestra, Stage Band, and Madrigal Singers. All students received a break on December 14, Reading Day, to study for exams. The semester officially came to a close on the 21, with Winter Commencement Exercises.

The 1989 Spring Semester started with two hit movies. "Big Business," and "Who Framed Roger Rabbit" filled the Life Sciences Theatre. The Annual Superbowl Party drew students to the Spart's Den to watch the game as well as its much-advertised half-time show. Anthony Clark had the audience laughing and Jeff Stork, from the US Olympic Volleyball team, presented a clinic in the gym. January ended with the showing of "Big" and that YCP craze, BINGO.

February is noted as Black History month. In conjunction with that, the B.S.U. sponsored a lecture by Dick Gregory. Other activities included BINGO, the Comedy Shoppe and Dave Binder. Bull Durham and Cocktail were the films shown and the annual Valentine's Day Dance was held in Buechel Lounge. NASA Astronaut, Col. Richard Mullane addressed a packed Life-Sciences Theater. The month ended with Winter Break.

The month of March started off with Winter Vacation. Upon return, the Theatre Co. presented two one-act plays, as well as, the debut of their Children's theatre. Rick Kelly presented a night of comedy in the Spart's Den and A Fish Called Wanda was shown in the Theatre. The school closed for Spring Break, and Jeanine Barr received the Faculty Recognition Award from Student Senate. The month ended with the annual Career Festival.

April was perhaps the busiest month at the college. The Spart's Den presented Thom Lewis and Gary Delena. The Theatre Co. presented Dr. Faustus, and Spring Weekend was here. The Spring Formal was sold out and the whole weekend was a great success. After Spring Weekend was over and the jello cleaned up, Greek Week began. The annual recognition dinner was held and the month ended with the Spring Concert.

Spring Weekend 1989

Spring Weekend started on Friday night with the Spring Formal. A night full of dancing and partying with King David Wolfe and Queen Patty Scarito, both representing Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Saturday was more low-keyed, with the Annual Black Student Union Fashion Show. Fashions were donated from various stores around the York area, and were modeled by YCP students.

The campus "went Hawaiian" on Sunday with students decked out in grass skirts and "Club York" T-shirts. The fountain was decked out in pineapples and balloons. The mall outside

Campbell Hall was packed all day with students wandering between the various booths set up by different organizations.

Some of the highlights included the ZBT dunk tank with dunkes Laurie Reed, Dean Merkle, Randy Rice just to mention a few. The caricature artist and recording booths were both popular this year. Another popular event was Jello Wrestling, which included some unexpected contestants. The ROCKETS performed an outdoor concert throughout the day and were followed by SHORT NOTICE. The radio station held the annual musical chairs competition and the day wound down with a cookout in Beuchel Lounge. It was a great weekend and Laurie Reed, Student Senate, CAB, and all those involved should be proud of themselves.

Volleyball

This was a "Tale of Two Seasons" for the 1988 squad. The undersized team, led by captain Beth Gibson, roared out to a surprising 10-5 start. Taking fourth place at the Susquehanna Tournament with the defense and serving of Korena Tyson and Sue Bieber was a highlight. The blocking and middle attack of Kris Randall and Jan Laird were major factors in the upset of #2 Messiah and close calls to #4 Elizabeth and #11 W. Maryland. A season ending injury to Jennifer Champaness and the loss of Laurie Hahn midseason, caused a change in the line up and the team's solid, sure play. Instead of winning the close matches, they seemed to slip through their fingers. The second half tailspin ended on a high note with a win over Susquehanna and the emergence of Jennifer Bell as a player of the future.

Field Hockey

The 1988 field hockey team consisted of 10 returning players and 16 new players. This was the first time in several years that a full junior varsity team was fielded. This allowed full field practice scrimmages and a higher level of play for the entire team. The stronger recruiting emphasis for the season showed in both numbers and ability.

The captains, who shared different team responsibilities, included seniors Val Whiteman, Jody Gladfelter, Michelle Metz, Diane Rusnock, Lynn Rooney and junior Michelle Gladfelter.

Highlights for the season were the win over Franklin & Marshall and a double overtime victory over Catholic. Disappointments were a double overtime tie with Mt. St. Mary's and a loss with only 35 seconds left in the game to Eastern Mennonite.

The season ended with 24 players in good standing and a record of 8 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie.

Men's Swimming

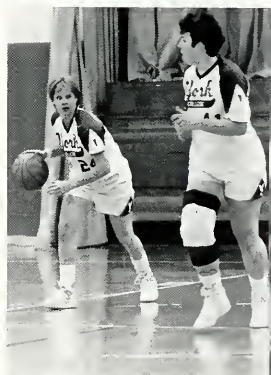

The 1988-89 Men's Swim Team consisted of 10 members dedicated to reestablishing the men's program after two years of dormancy. The men started the season without a schedule of meets, but managed to arrange for competition with seven other college teams. Overall the men ended up with a 3-4 record. More importantly, the men came together as a team. This season was an important stepping stone for the future of the YCP men's swimming team with every member helping to insure continued success. Freshman Jim Stiles served as team captain and was a key factor both competitively and strategically. Sophomores Paul Bisbal and Mike Anderson added versatility to the team. Jim Ross, Dan McConnell, Rob Keller, and Seth Feldman were all dedicated swimmers and demonstrated improvement and potential. Next year's team is expected to be strong since no members will be lost to graduation.

Women's Basketball

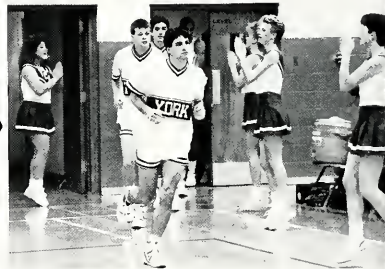

The women's basketball team ended a tough 21 game schedule with a 9-12 record. The final record was not a true indicator of the ability and talent of this young squad. The team suffered key losses to Dickinson, Misericordia, and Juniata. However, the young squad did demonstrate their capability and potential by capturing massive wins including the upset over Division II Clarion University and ending their season on a winning note by downing a solid Salisbury University team.

The team was involved in four tournaments and in each York's representatives were named as all-tournament team players. Receiving all-tournament team awards were Tammy Blymire, Sharon Erfft, Jamie Floyd, Kristi Lewundowski, and Paula Rusnock.

The team's only graduating senior is team co-captain Chris Decker who has contributed greatly in her last two seasons and will be missed by the team. She leaves having been two-year starter with an average of 8 points 7 rebounds per game. Junior co-captain Sharon Erfft was third in scoring with a 10 point average and first in assists. A strong sophomore class consisted of three starters. Guard Tammy Blymire was second in scoring averaging 11 points and was second in assists. Forward Jamie Floyd was the team's M.V.P. and led the team in total steals with four per game. Tammy Coddington came off the bench at the forward spot adding two rebounds per game. The freshmen class consisted of three top reserves, guard Kristi Lewandowski and centers Jennifer Plimpton, and Wendy Horner.

Morrison also achieved an individual record of 5 three-point field goals made in one game. Adding to his career totals, Mike Donahue amassed a record of 588 assists, 242 steals and 101 three-point field goals. With many close scores, the Spartans unfortunately finished with a losing record. On a higher note, the team averaged a healthy 70.9 points a game.

Track & Field

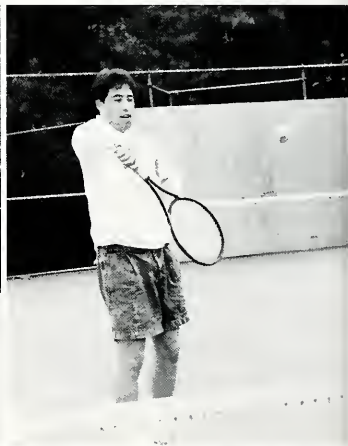

The 1989 York College track and field team had it's ups and downs this season. The team did not do as well as expected in dual meet competition posting a 2-5 record. However, the team produced an outstanding effort at the Messiah Invitational by placing fourth out of sixteen teams. Most of the highs this season came from outstanding individual accomplishments. Greg Liggs led the way by winning the 100 meter dash at the Mason Dixon Conference Championship becoming York's first conference champ and earning all conference honors. Greg also qualified to participate in the NCAA Division III Championships. Brian Speir won the discus at the Messiah Invitational and gained all conference honors by placing in the shot put and discus at the conference meet. For the second year in a row Matt Craley earned all conference honors by placing in the long jump at the conference meet. Laura Johns became the first York College woman to gain all conference honors when she placed in the triple jump at the conference meet.

The men's tennis team started this season with only eight team members and without a coach. The team posted only two wins out of the ten meets and had two cancelled meets this season. The men on this team have shown that they really enjoy playing tennis and are willing to go without a coach. Great Effort Guys and lets hope you will have a coach next season.

A Look Back At 1988 -

The marriage of the year erupted as actress, Robin Givens filed for divorce from hubby - heavyweight boxer, Mike Tyson. There was an international good will effort as Russian and American rescuers cut through ice in Alaska to save two California gray whales that had been trapped for more than three weeks. All eyes were on Russia after a drastic earthquake devastated the town of Leningrad.

President Ronald Reagan and Soviet Leader Mikhail Gorbachev worked to eliminate certain nuclear weapons. 1988 was the year their efforts took effect. Gretchen Elizabeth Carlson of Minnesota was crowned Miss America 1989 and the World Series belonged to the Los Angeles Dodgers with a 5-2 victory over the Oakland A's

What A Year It Was!

What a year it was! The 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul, South Korea were sixteen days of extreme athletic competition with stars: Greg Louganis (2 Gold), Carl Lewis (2 Gold, 1 Silver), Florence Griffith Joyner (3 Gold, 1 Silver), and Matt Biondi (5 Gold, 1 Silver, 1 Bronze).

George Bush took the Presidential Election, even though Vice-President candidate, Dan Quayle, caused quite a bit of controversy. In September, the space shuttle Discovery blasted into orbit. After four days and 1.6 million miles, it landed triumphantly at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

YORK COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

Dear Friends,

As this academic year ends, I must release a sentimental sigh as I depart from my office as Editor of the yearbook and from York College.

While I write this letter, I look back at my three years as Editor of the HORIZON. These years have proved to be immense growing and learning experiences. I thank all of those people who supported me in my efforts. I hope that you will continue to support the HORIZON while it's under the skillful eye of Michelle Baum (" Good luck, Michelle!").

This year proved to be the most hectic. There was GODSPELL, the ONE-ACTS, choir, and most importantly - PARTIES! Every moment holds a special place in my heart.

Before signing my last yearbook letter, I want to thank all of my friends and advisors that I have had at YCP. Special thanks to: Jeanine Barr, Nancy Corson, Brian Furio, Adam Gelles, Cathy Heilman, Jeff Lippert, Todd Marks, Jim McGhee, Royce Messersmith, Terri Nelson, Ann Ranck, Kim Robertson, Denise Schlegel, Deb Smith, DeLeigh Wilson, Craig Rodabaugh, and Laurie Reed for their friendship, guidance, and support.

*Love and Gratitude
Always,
Mac*
